india Updated: Nov 13, 2018 20:41 IST Thousands of commuters were stranded for hours as their train to the town of Bhubaneswar was running an hour late, even as the government blamed an "equipment problem". The Waghmare-Bhubaneswar Intercity Express (WBIE) train was supposed to leave the Khurda Road station at 7.30 am. But as it was nearing the Godavari station in Khurda district, it stopped at 6.52 am, more than an hour late. The railway officials said the train was running slow due to "temperature factor" and was further delayed due to "unavoidable paucity of railway tracks" in the area. The train was carrying over 50 passengers, including men and women between the ages of five and eighty, when it was stranded. After waiting for nearly four hours, passengers boarded another train for Bhubaneswar. The victims said they had left home at 4.30 am in the morning to catch the train to Bhubaneswar. "We made early arrangements to board the train. We had to reach Bhubaneswar by 5 pm," said Pranati Rana, a native of the neighbouring village of Bijjeshwar. "As per the timetable, our train should have left Khurda Road at 7.30 am. But the train did not leave at that time but at 6.52 am," he added. WBIE train services have been shut in both directions since 9.00 am, said a railway officials. "The train took almost 90 minutes to reach Godavari station. We have directed the maintenance department to change the tyres of the train. Now we will check how long it takes to fix the problem," said Sanjay Kumar Jena, chief public relations manager, East Coast Railway. "I understand that after the last train had left, a few passengers were asleep in the first AC coach. Because of the closed windows and doors, the entire coach was overheated," he said. Jena added that the railway authorities have not received any complaint from the passengers. "As of now, the issue has been resolved, but we will be making arrangements to provide food to the passengers," he said.
